Technical hitches hit the JSE on Monday, spokeswoman Victoria Williams said.

"The JSE's indices are not updating and they've been working on the problem since the morning, but it hasn't been solved yet," Williams said.

However, the bourse was able to trade, she said.

Market commentator Lavan Gopaul said that being unable to access the indices was not without problems.

"There are investors that really concentrate on the top 40 shares and the indices give you a measure of things."
